AMMUNITION BOUND SURVEYORS FAIL FOR HAITI IS SEIZED TO FIND MISTAKE

Customs Officers at New York
Confiscate Goods Found on Seminole—An Investigation
Will Be Made.

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—Ten thousand rounds of rifle and revolver ammunition were seized by customs inspectors Friday afternoon aboard the steamer Seminole, lying at her pier here. The Seminole is to sail Saturday for Haiti and San Domingo.

The confiscated ammunition was hidden in many different parts of the vessel. The Seminole's officers said they did not know of its presence. They placed the responsibility on members of the ship's crew.

The raid on the Seminole was made by order of Nelson A. Henry, surveyor of the port, after the ship's manifest was taken. This record failed to state that the ammunition was on board, in violation of the customs laws and also of the passenger laws as the Seminole is a passenger-carrying vessel.

Some of the ammunition valued at $2,500 was found under the coal in the bunkers and some in the boilers of the unused donkey engines and in matted-covered ventilators. In the coal were found six automatic revolvers of the latest design, worth $50 each.

The customs authorities began an investigation to find the persons responsible for the shipment and for whom it was designed. The ammunition was taken to New Jersey to be destroyed and the revolvers to the customs house.

BOARD IS NOT ALARMED

Think China Will Not Make Confucianism a State Religion.

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—The American board of foreign missions is not alarmed by the efforts to make Confucianism the state religion of China, according to a statement Friday by the Rev. Dr. A. Woodruff Halsey, secretary of the board.

He said that the board had received dispatches Saturday from Peking told of an anti-Confucianism meeting attended by American missionaries, at which a league was formed to oppose the adoption of a state religion by the republic.

SULTAN OF TURKEY LOSES COURT CASE

Will Not Recover the $10,000 He Wanted to Collect From a Wealthy Rug Dealer.

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—The sultan of Turkey was a losing litigant Friday in the appellate division of the supreme court of New York.

His highest suit to recover $10,000 from the estate of Hovhannes Tavshanjian, a wealthy Armenian rug dealer murdered in this city in 1907. This sum was left to Tavshanjian's mother who died before receiving it. Because she died intestate in Constantinople the sultan claimed the money.

The suit was decided against him by the supreme court and the appellate division Friday affirmed the decision.

SHANK, FEARING ANOTHER STRIKE, QUITS AS MAYOR

Indianapolis Official Resigns
When Business Men Threaten to Impeach Him if Teamsters Go Out on a Strike.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 29.—Rather than face impeachment proceedings, Samuel Lewis Shank resigned as mayor of Indianapolis Friday afternoon and was automatically succeeded by Harry R. Wallace, city controller.

A committee of business men had prepared proceedings to remove Shank from office in case of any further labor trouble in the city, and when the mayor was told by labor leaders Friday afternoon that a strike of union teamsters was imminent he sent his resignation to the city clerk.

"I feel that I did everything on my part to be fair to both sides during the recent street car strike," Mayor Shank said in announcing his resignation, "but, after the criticism that has been heaped on me by the safety board of the Chamber of Commerce, I feel that I probably could not retain my position and do my duty to the general public as mayor on account of the bitter feeling that has grown out of the labor controversy."

Mayor Wallace said the police situation is so critical that he will take personal charge of the department for a time. The new mayor has been prominent in republican politics for some time. He served one term as county auditor and is on his second term as county chairman.

As soon as Mayor Wallace took the oath of office he named a new board of public safety. The members are Hugh M. Love, Schuyler C. Haas and Edwin H. Emrich, all well known business men. Fred B. Akin was then named city controller. The mayor then went at once to police headquarters where he said he would put forth every effort to reorganize the force, which has become demoralized during the last few weeks.

Many Minor Disorders

For practically four months the Indianapolis police have had to deal with many minor disorders growing out of labor troubles. During all of this disorder the police were ready to order from former Supt. of Police Martin Hyland to suppress the disorder, but on the other hand were ordered by Mayor Shank not to interfere in the labor question.

Thomas J. Farrell, general organizer in charge of the Teamsters and Chauffeurs' unions, in this city, said Friday night that a meeting of the two organizations had been called for Sunday afternoon when they would vote upon the question of calling a strike.

While the teamsters' demands were being considered the union organizers have been at work unionizing other crafts here. The hotel and restaurant workers, the department store employees and laundry workers now are being organized.

Shank is probably the most vocal figure that ever occupied the mayor's office in Indianapolis. He achieved considerable notoriety by his handling of the saloon problem early in his administration. Saloonkeepers who violated the law were taken before the mayor and in many instances their licenses were suspended for periods varying from a few hours to several days.

Shank was suspended until he could show the mayor a certificate, signed by a minister, that he had attended church.

Nation-Wide Fame

Shank also gained nation-wide fame in 1911 by his fight on the high cost of living. He found that the city market was falling in its original purpose to bring the producer and consumer together and imported 16 carloads of potatoes, which he retailed at 75 cents a bushel. Potatoes were then retailing at $1.40, but prices tumbled after night and did not regain their high mark during the season. He also sold fruits, vegetables and poultry in competition with the city market.

He made a fight on insurance rates in the city which was successful in causing a reduction totalling $200,000 a year. He took great delight in performing a marriage ceremony and always turned whatever fee he was given over to the bride as a present.

The former mayor served one term as recorder of this (Marion) county and before entering politics was an auctioneer and storage house proprietor.

TWO STATES AFTER INHERITANCE TAX

Minneapolis and Texas Are Claiming Late Charles C. Gates as Resident in Their Domains.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Nov. 29.—A case to determine the legal residence of the late Charles C. Gates, and which state—Minnesota or Texas—shall collect the inheritance tax, was begun in probate court Friday.

William J. Stevenson, assistant state attorney general, filed a petition to probate the estate, asserting that Mr. Gates' home was in Minneapolis. Later, Frank T. Corlison, representing Mrs. Gates and other heirs filed a copy of the will and a petition with the court.

Both Mr. Corlison's and the state's actions will be heard on Jan. 8. Mrs. Gates' petition argued that her husband's legal residence was at Fort Worth, Texas. The heirs estimate of the Minnesota portion of the estate is $500,000.

Chicago Women Combine to Make

CHICAGO, Nov. 29.—With the members of 96 women's clubs in Chicago organized to force the price of eggs down to 32 cents, the butter and egg board took action Friday. They asked that a committee of women meet some of the board members tomorrow, and this the housewives agreed to do. The commission men maintained the law of supply and demand will prevent the eggs from dropping to the point set by the women.

GET $15,000 IN MAIL LOOT

was responsible for the garrison when Victoria was attacked by the rebels on Nov. 17.

It was not until Friday morning that the newspapers of the Mexican capital published any intimation that the mail looting had taken place. The city was credited with having evacuated the city.

The private message fails to give details of his death. Among the intimated victims of the capture of Victoria by the rebels one is related of the execution of Capt. Tomas Jomez. He was told that his life would be spared if he foreswore the government. He refused, and was given an hour for meditation. When the hour had elapsed and his guards had come for him, he asked to be taken before the man who had ordered his execution, and was ordered to the military judge, assuring him that he cherished no resentment, and then marched to the place designated for his death.

There he distributed among the firing squad all but one of a package of cigars. This he lighted himself and signalled to the officer in command to give the order to fire.

EL PASO, TEXAS, Nov. 29.

The movement of Gen. Francisco Villa's troops to the south to attack the federal stronghold at Chihuahua was begun Friday, when nearly 1,000 men under Gen. Rosalvo Hernandez departed for the south. They were equipped with a work train used to repair the railroad line which was destroyed in places below Juarez by the federalists when they retreated southward after the Battle of Agua Prieta.

Rebel leaders believe they will have a fight with the federalists at Villa Ahumada, 83 miles south of Juarez, as the state troops defeat the federalists. Pancho Villa announced Friday that his army, with the exception of a thousand men, who would remain to guard the city, would leave Saturday morning for the south to attack the federalists recently defeated outside of Juarez.

He has heard that the federal troops were "dead" at the retreat at Villa Ahumada, 83 miles south of Juarez, and that the federalists are camping there. Villa said he had plenty of ammunition for a fight, or for a siege of the state capital. He said he captured 1,122 shells in the recent fighting, besides 1,300 rifles and 23,000 cartridges.

Villa said not more than eighty of his men were killed.

RUSH DEFENSES FOR FOREIGNERS IN MEXICO CITY

marks the robbery must have been committed early Friday evening and the robbers entered South Bend on the interurban during the night.

A comparatively small part of the mail had not been opened, the envelopes evidently failing to show the promise of booty to the robbers. These were sorted and put into the mails again at the local office.

There were four registered letters and at the time of the robbery the indicated they had contained considerable sums of money. Four money orders aggregating nearly $75 were left, as the robbers evidently would not risk the chance of trying to cash them.

The Lee Brothers bank seemed to have the largest amount of mail in the rifled sack. Besides the drafts and checks totaling $16,248.39 there were two or three other checks aggregating more than $100, which, however, were left by the thieves.

Other banks whose drafts were gone from the envelopes were the Dowagiac National bank addressed to Old Detroit State bank and Kalamazoo City Savings bank; the State Savings bank, addressed to Grand Rapids National bank.

The envelope which contained the Dowagiac remittance of money order receipts addressed to the Detroit office, showed that the letter had not been registered. A slip from an adding machine roll containing sums amounted to $5,000, was found loose among the letters. There being no other connection for the slip it was believed that this might have indicated the amount of the money order remittance.

The fact that the remittance was not registered indicated that the postmaster might have enclosed a draft instead of the cash, which is the usual method, which the thieves would scarcely have the nerve to attempt to collect.

It was believed there were a large number of smaller remittances in the mail. The great amount of mail found in the rifled envelopes indicated that the robbers had posted themselves as to the time when the Dowagiac banks were accustomed to remit their correspondents in the larger cities.
